

50/50 Coalition

“NO MODERN EUROPEAN DEMOCRACY WITHOUT GENDER EQUALITY”

Introduction: Why is there a need for a cross-party coalition for 50/50 gender balance in all European institutions and a 50/50 campaign ahead of the EU 2014 elections?

In 2014, Europeans will elect a new European Parliament. Will there be gender balance among the MEPs? Will the President of the European Parliament be a woman after 13 years with male presidents? We will also see a new European Commission led by its President. Will the Commission consist of 50% women and 50% men? Will the President be a woman for the first time?

Women represent more than half of the population of the EU, but they are not represented equally in decision-making at all European levels.

This current and lingering under-representation is a serious obstacle to the democratic legitimacy of the European Union.ⁱ

The EU states that Equality between women and men is one of its main objectives and a fundamental value.ⁱⁱ Moreover, gender equality in decision-making is mentioned as one of the priorities in the European Strategy for Equality between Women and Men 2010-2015 as well as in The European Pact for Gender Equality (2011-2020).

1. Who are we and what are our aims?

To achieve 50/50 gender balance in the European institutions after the elections in 2014, a cross-party coalition of MEP's came together with the support of the European Women's Lobby (EWL) to make parity become a reality in the European institutions.

A modern and genuine democracy requires gender equality; the equal representation of women and men in the making of decisions that affect their lives.

We are convinced it is high time for concrete actions ahead of the European elections in 2014!

We believe that gender equality is a condition for modernising our political systems, so that women and men in their diversity equally share rights, responsibilities, and power. Gender equality should be at the heart of European initiatives to engage citizens in decision-making, to increase the legitimacy of the European Union, and to progress towards policies that reflect the needs and aspirations of all Europeans.

2. Our demands

We, the Members of the European Parliament, come together to call on all decision-makers, individuals and organisations interested in the promotion of democracy and justice to support this equality between women and men in decision-making and gender parity at all levels and across the boundaries of countries and political parties.

We call on:

- Each Member State to nominate one female and one male candidate for to the College of Commissioners and for all top jobs in the EU institutions;
- The Member States and Council of the EU to promote and ensure gender parity in the executive board and top positions of the European Central Bank;
- The political groups in the European Parliament to nominate one female and one male candidate for President of the European parliament, and to ensure gender parity in the nomination of chairpersons within Committees, as well as in the composition of the Bureaus;
- The European political parties to promote and ensure gender representation in their decision-making bodies and promote women candidates for decision-making positions in the European Parliament;
- National political parties to compose their electoral lists in such a way as to ensure gender parity in outcome at the 2014 European Elections;
- The European Council to put women in decision-making high on the political agenda.
